

Christianity & Politics - a volatile mix

Paul Woolley

Paul Woolley is the Director of Theos, a public theology think tank which exists to undertake research and provide commentary on social and political arrangements.

Paul's sermon is based on Colossians 1:15-23, and calls Christians to be involved with the real world in which God has placed us. He asks Christians to reflect on the question:

Is the reality who is Christ impacting on what you are, what you're doing, how you think, how you live?

© 2009 Paul Woolley

This talk is reproduced here by the kind permission of Paul Woolley.

Find out more about the work of Theos.