

Studying Theology, Philosophy or Religious Studies?

Come Learn From...

Biggest Mistakes

When

Saturday, 2 April 2011
10:30am – 3:00pm

Where

The Upper Room
All Souls Clubhouse
141 Cleveland Street
London, W1T 6QG

(Nearest Tube – Warren Street or Great Portland Street)

What

A day for theology, philosophy and religious studies students from various universities to come together to build friendships, learn from the mistakes of two former students and think about how to live and speak for Jesus within your departments.

Our Speakers:

Daniel Blanche

Studied philosophy, politics and economics at Oxford, before going on to a mixed career including a stint in a train maintenance facility and four years working with UCCF. More recently, he returned to uni and picked up a Postgraduate Diploma in Theology. He now works in an office. He is married to Kate, and serves as an Elder of Magdalen Road Church in east Oxford.

Daniel Strange

Read theology and religious studies at Bristol University and stayed on to complete a doctorate on the theology of religions. He worked for five years with UCCF ministering to evangelical students engaged in theology and religious studies. Since 2005 Dan has been tutor in Religion, Culture and Public Theology at Oak Hill Theological College, London. Dan is an elder at East Finchley Baptist Church, is married to Elly, and has six children.

Lunch

Bring lunch with you to provide the most time to get to know one another.

More info

Wes English

E: wenglish@uccf.org.uk, T: 0753 123 2979