

God: new evidence - Part 2

Multiple Speakers

God: new evidence

How recent scientific discoveries point to the reality of the Creator Part 2

"The question of whether there exists a supernatural creator, a God, is one of the most important questions we have to answer. I think it is a scientific question." Richard Dawkins

"The universe is unlikely. Very unlikely. Deeply, shockingly, unlikely." Discover magazine

"The Universe we live in seems to be a very unlikely place... Are we just lucky? Or is there some deep significance to the fact that we live in a Universe just right for us?" New Scientist magazine

"Nothing has shaken my atheism as much as this discovery." Professor Sir Fred Hoyle

[Go back to Part 1]

This resource contains videos 4 to 6 in a series examining recent scientific evidence for a Creator God, based on the fact that the universe is an extremely unlikely place – in other words it displays "fine-tuning". God: new evidence is a series of videos about these remarkable discoveries that point us towards the Creator.

Right for Us?

The only kind of universe we could possibly live in is one that is fine-tuned for life. Is this enough to explain the remarkable fine tuning of the universe we live in? Could a 'Theory of Everything' explain this away? The fourth in a series of six videos asks whether we should be surprised that the universe is just right for us? Is it reasonable still to ask "Why?".

[video]

God or Multiverse?

The universe we live in is remarkably finely adjusted to make our lives possible. Is this because it has been designed for us, or are there a huge number of universes, one of which is bound to be 'right for life'? The fifth in a series of six videos considers: 'God' or 'the multiverse'?

[video]

A Deeper Story?

The Universe is a shockingly unlikely place. It has been very precisely adjusted to make our lives possible. Many scientists agree that there must be some significance to this, and we are not just here by chance. So does this point to the reality of a creator God? Is there a deeper story? The last in a series of six videos explores how recent discoveries in astronomy and physics point to the reality of the Creator.

[video]

The videos are available on a DVD for use by churches, Christian Unions and other groups. They can also be accessed from Youtube and at www.focus.org.uk. This website also contains further information, videos and other resources. You can also order free postcards to help make this better known.

There's a rapidly growing Facebook fan page and you can also follow them on Twitter.

Copyright © 2010 God: new evidence - All Rights Reserved. The material in this resource is reproduced by the kind permission of David Couchman and Focus.